* The tail end of "Clock Strikes Twelve" is taken from a fabulous song, "Time Flies By" copyright, 1998, from a great Milwaukee band, The Pinwheels. The original recording includes Roy Anderson on guitar and vocals, Mike Geraci and drums, Mike Kloman on bass and Mike Hoffmann on guitar and backup vocals. Special thanks to the gang for letting me use their song.

Many thanks also to all the musicians who played on this album: Miguel Salas, Chris Costello, Bruce Hook, Anthony Calderisi, Sarah Heinz and Jessica Heinz. Special thanks to Anthony for making the whole project achievable, and to Anita Vigilante for her desktop publishing expertise again. Thanks to Jan Widmaier and John Meyer for loaning their instruments. Thanks also to Dean Milano for playing bass on a tune that was scratched from this project. Finally, thanks to everyone's families for giving us time and support to complete the project.
